THE PLATINUM TRIPLE ADVANTAGE

Platinum's advanced formula makes it a superior choice for all ages and lifestyles, and also makes it the ideal supplement for athletes and seniors

Immunocal Platinum has all the goodness found in Immunocal with two additional components added: CMP™ and RMF which deliver additional health benefits

These two components were added by world-renowned immunochemist Dr. Wulf Dröge for further cellular and metabolic protection. This is another example of Immunotec's pledge to advance its research in keeping Immunocal on the cutting edge, and continuing Dr. Bounous's legacy of scientific scrutiny.

Immunocal has powered elite professional and amateur athletes, worldwide, including multiple Olympian gold, silver, and bronze medalists

Maintaining good immune function is linked to healthier aging and resistance to health challenges resulting in improved quality of life

In the development of Immunocal Platinum, we looked very carefully at the biochemistry of protein metabolism, and at potential components of whey sub-fractions that relate to aging. As a result, two separate formulations were added to Immunocal: CMP™, which adds protective peptides, and RMF which supports bone health by reducing calcium loss.*

SCIENCE. DISCOVERY. GLOBAL RECOGNITION.

Over forty years ago, Drs. Gustavo Bounous and Patricia Kongshavn discovered the role of a specially-prepared protein isolate, now famous as Immunocal, in raising glutathione, thereby maintaining immune function.* Immunocal has achieved global recognition through patents issued in the U.S., Canada, and many other countries around the world.

GLUTATHIONE. MASTER ANTIOXIDANT.

Glutathione is critical for healthy immune function. This essential molecule is present in all our cells. For a variety of reasons including aging, lack of exercise, or over-training, poor diet, stress, and health challenges, the ability to produce our body's master antioxidant becomes reduced. This is why Immunocal is so important.

HEALTH. WELLNESS. PERFORMANCE.

It all starts with the immune system. Maintaining good immune function is linked to healthier aging and resistance to health challenges. Immunocal goes beyond health, it also enhances your strength and performance for improved quality of life.*
